During the visit, the Head of State inspected the workshops of the enterprise and got acquainted with the technological process of processing oilseeds and producing refined oil.

— Your investments are being attracted to the processing industry for the first time, and this is an important contribution to the agricultural complex of Kazakhstan. All the products manufactured here go to the foreign market, which contributes to an increase in the country's exports, job creation and profit. All this is very important», — the President of Kazakhstan said.

After the inspection of the enterprise, the akim of the region Kumar Aksakalov reported on the results of the social and economic development of North Kazakhstan region for the first half of 2018.

Nursultan Nazarbayev noted that North Kazakhstan region, which had the agricultural land with the highest quality of soil in the country, traditionally specialized in the agrarian sector, and stressed that a quarter of Kazakhstani grain production falls on this region.

— The potential of agriculture is not yet used at the proper level. At the same time, the region's farmers, of course, are high-level experts in agriculture and grain production. At the same time, it is necessary to engage in the development of the livestock sector, — the Head of State concluded.

In addition, the head of the region informed about the preparations for holding the XV interregional Kazakh-Russian forum.

The President of Kazakhstan gave a number of instructions on expanding the agrarian potential of the region through the introduction of scientific achievements and digitization in agriculture, as well as to enhance cross-border cooperation, further development of industrial production and tourism, and enhance the investment and business attractiveness of the region.

— «Five social initiatives» should contribute to resolving these issues. It is necessary to ensure their high-quality implementation on the ground, — Nursultan Nazarbayev said.

«Tayinsha May» LLP is one of the largest enterprises of the agricultural cluster of the region. The plant is equipped with modern equipment of European production and is capable of processing up to 1000 tons of raw materials per day. The company employs 46 people.
